Dear Sir:

Will you be so kind as to inform me how to proceed to find the market value of some coins which I have? I know that there are a great many dealers in coins but I do not know of a reliable one whose catalogue is up-to-date.

My coins are mostly early American ones, from 1788 to Civil War times, with a few early Canadians, Mexican and European pieces.

Thanking you for any advice you may offer, I am

Respectfully yours,

Edna Leslie Freeman.

Dear Madam:

The books that coin dealers sell will help you little, as it is the condition the coin is in that governs prices. I am enclosing a list of coin dealers and you might write to some of them.

Very truly yours,

Curator.
